Cancellation policy

Cancellation of attendance may take place up to two (1) week prior to the start date of the class for a complete refund. Cancellation after (1) week is subject to a $100.00 processing fee. Registration is transferable and encouraged. Failure to notify of non-attendance or a "no-show" on the assigned date will result in forfeiture of all payment of tuition for that class.

If the minimum number of students are not registered for a given course one (1) week prior to start date, you will be notified of course cancellation. At that time, you may either request your tuition be returned or choose to apply it to the next available start date for the same course.

If your registration arrives after a class has been filled, you can select another date or receive a full refund.

Lodging and Meals: Attendees are responsible for their own lodging and meals. Visit the Client Resources section at www.hubbardsystems.com for information on hotels.
